TREASURER DAN SCHWARTZ ISSUES STATEMENT
AFTER DUAL ESA HEARINGS AT NEVADA SUPREME COURT

Carson City, NV – Nevada State Treasurer and Administrator of the Nevada Education Savings Account (ESA) program, Dan Schwartz, issued the following statement today after both hearings at the Nevada Supreme Court in Lopez v. Schwartz and ACLU v. State of Nevada.

"Today is a big day. We are elated that the Nevada Supreme Court has agreed to hear arguments for both lawsuits, reflecting their understanding that this statewide debate has grown nationally. Lawmakers in other states are looking to their decision to plan school choice in their own state. Equally important, Nevada families need a speedy ruling so they may proceed with their academic and financial plans for the upcoming school year."

"Thank you to all the parents who showed up at the Court today to show their interest in the program and voice their desire for a timely decision. Today's hearings bring us one step closer to allowing Nevadan parents educational choice opportunities for the upcoming school year."

Our office has received an estimated 7,800 plus applications throughout the past year, which will be processed as soon as the court renders a decision.
